ANZAC DAY

Most nations of the world have a national day of mourning for their war dead. In Australia and New Zealand, this day is April 25th. In Britain it is Armistice Day, 11th November. On this day in 1920, the body of an unknown British soldier was buried in Westminster Abbey. The inscription on his tomb reads:

"Beneath this stone lies the body of a British warrior, unknown by name or rank, brought here on Armistice Day, November 11, 1920, in the presence of His Majesty King George V, his ministers of State, his chiefs of his forces and a vast concourse of the nation. Thus are commemorated the many multitudes who during the Great War of 1914-1918 gave the most that man can give, life itself, for God, for King and country, for loved ones, home and Empire, for the sacred cause of justice and the freedom of the world. They buried him among kings because he had done good toward God and toward his House."

This unique idea was the inspiration of an Army Chaplain, the Rev. David Railton, M.C. During the war near Armentieres, he noticed a grave bearing a pencilled inscription, "An unknown soldier of the Black Watch."

He later approached the Dean of Westminster with the suggestion that an unknown soldier should be buried among the nation's illustrious dead in the Abbey.

The Dean was able to persuade the Government to accept this. Accordingly, Brigadier-General L.J. Wyatt, D.S.O., who was General Officer in charge of troops in France and Flanders was instructed that the body of a British soldier which it would be impossible to identify, should be brought in from each of the six battle areas - the Aisne, Marne, Cambrai, Somme, Arras and Ypres - on the night of 9th November 1920, and placed in the Chapel at St. Pol. At midnight, General Wyatt entered the Chapel, was blindfolded by another officer and turned in the direction of the row of stretchers bearing the six bodies.

The body in the first coffin he touched was to be Britain's "Unknown Soldier." A guard was mounted and the other five coffins were re-interred in the military cemetery at St. Pol.

With full military honours, the coffin was conveyed to London. On 11th November, the coffin, covered by a Union Jack, on which were placed a steel helmet, bayonet and webbing belt, was put on a gun carriage and drawn by six horses, started in slow time by a long route to reach the Cenotaph.

Here, King George V. stepped forward and placed his wreath of red roses and bay leaves on the coffin. Outside the Abbey, the coffin, borne by NCO's of the Guards, passed through two lines of 100 wearers of the Victoria Cross, under the command of Colonel Freyberg V.C. of New Zealand.

Behind these were widows and mothers of the fallen. The service was conducted by the Dean, and during the singing of "Lead Kindly Light", the coffin was lowered into the tomb.

At the committal, the King scattered earth from the battlefields from a silver shell. After "Last Post" and "Reveille", the two lines of the V.C. winners filed past on either side of the tomb. The service was the mourning of a nation.

In Australia and New Zealand, we are given the opportunity on Saturday of remembering and paying tribute to all of our own Known and Unknown warriors.

For a brief period, our War Memorials take on the character of that famous tomb in Westminster Abbey. It is a day of remembrance and re-union.

The presence of men and women at cenotaphs and war memorials throughout the two countries is a symbolic visit to the graves of the fallen, scattered across the lands and oceans of the world.

Dear Valerie Voyage,
 Do you believe in
 sex education in schools?
 Doubtful Mum.

Dear Doubtful Mum,
 Lets face it dear.
 Whether we do or not it will still go on.

Dear Valerie Voyage,
 I am a widower aged 35 and I'm courting a women over forty.
 Do you think our marriage will work?

Dear Grass Widower,
 Well you know what they say bout women over forty. They don't tell.

Dear Valerie Voyage,
 Yesterday I had my fortieth birthday. I had a big party and today my head aches, I have butterflies in my stomach and my hands shake. I hate being forty. What do you think?

Dear Pegleg Pete,
 Well dear seeing I'm only 24 or so, I wouldn't know about being forty. Perhaps it's only a touch of grape.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL BY TIGER CUB

In a nail-biting last quarter St Marys Thirds managed to hold on to beat St Helens by one point. It was a morale-boosting, if not convincing win for St Marys who are still smarting a little from last year's easy grand final defeat. What is promising, however, is the fact that the boys showed traditional fight in the last quarter, in spite of a general lack of fitness. Simon Danger was very impressive at centre-half-back and is well on the way to filling the very considerable hole left by Rodney Bushing in that position. Corey Cheshire took on the awesome responsibility of full-back and did well. Drew Berwick showed his usual brilliance in the centre and was well-supported by Chris Davern, Brent Leedham, Jack Vincy, Chris Hayes and a vastly improved Mark Webb. Aaron Furlow was ever reliable at centre-half-forward and an injured Paul Mason won all day in the ruck. Congratulations to our new captain, Justin Hayes who showed maturity and unselfishness at full-forward. Finally welcome to all the new young players without whom no club can survive.

PARENTS AND FRIENDS ASSOCIATION

PRESIDENT'S REPORT:

1986 has been a successful year for activity.

The Parents and Friends Association was once again involved in matters such as School Fair, Country Education and the successful running of the canteen. Many thanks to Mrs. Robyn Summers for the way she has handled the canteen.

The Parents and Friends had an input towards the setting up of Year 11 at St. Marys. This appears to be a very successful step in the right direction. I would urge you to get right behind this project and make sure of its continuing success and upgrading. A very sincere thank you to all who helped with this project.

A change of date for the fair and greater participation by staff and students resulted in one of the best fairs yet. I can see this going on to be even bigger and better. Being our major fund raiser for the year, your support of the fair is a must.

The Parents and Friends saw fit to spend money on projects such as Chetto Blaster, text books, school magazine subsidy, prizes for Open Day, curtains, etc. as can be seen by the balance sheet.

As usual, our meetings at the beginning of the year are well attended. However, there is a disappointing tapering off of attendance

This is one section of P & F that need thought and some form of encouragement to keep members attending meetings. I would like to thank staff members for their attendance during the year.

I must pay tribute to staff members, both past and present. Under the leadership of Mr Graeme Beswick, the students of St Marys District High School have benefitted greatly and enjoy a variety of outdoor activities as well as studies.

I would like to sincerely thank all who have helped and supported the Parents and Friends Association during the year, be they parents or staff. Without this support we cannot function.

Gerald Aulich.
