St Patrick's Head & Esk Valley Historical Society Inc Field Day to Rossarden and Gipps Creek On Sunday the 16th September

A great day was had at Rossarden and Gipps Creek, with Henry our Leader and Mary & Brad our guides. We gathered at the Rossarden Museum, and had a look at this marvelous achievement for a small community. Then Mary explained where we were going for the day.

Next was the Rossarden falls, not so easy for the faint hearted, of which I was one of the latter. Then we had lunch at the Gipps Creek turn off, then on to the remains of a dam that was used for the water to the mines, but in the 1929 floods two dams burst their banks, contributing to the flooding of Launceston. Some details of those dams are attached.

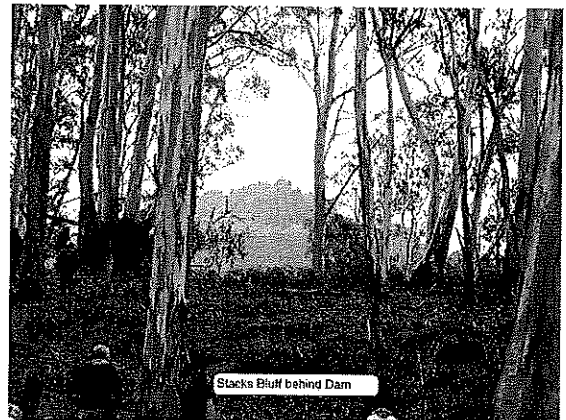

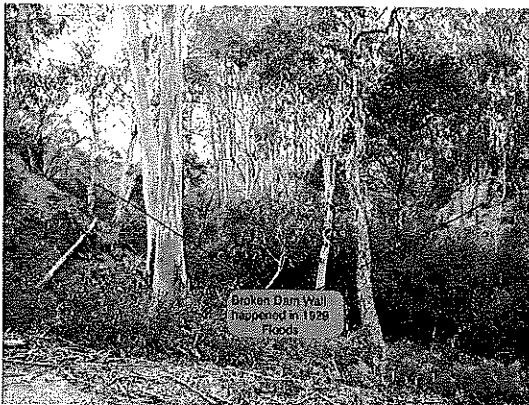

We then went along to an area near Batman's Lookout where we could visually survey the area, and then some walked to the old Gipps Creek Town, or where it was, and some went to an old mine to have a look in that.

SNIPPET FROM THE MERCURY 13TH DEC 1905 GIPPS CREEK TIN MINE

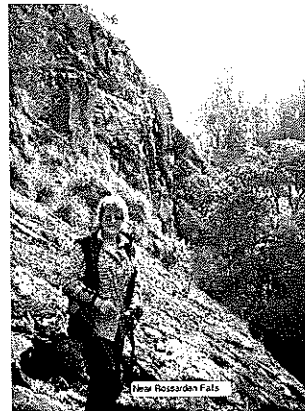

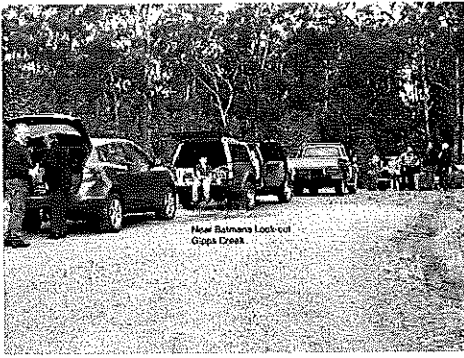

"The capital of the mine is to be 6000 pounds in shares of 1 pound each all fully paid up. Three thousand shares are now offered to the public at 1 pound each payment to be made as follows – 10 shillings per share cash at time of application, and 10 shillings per share by promissory note due in three months. No shares in the company will be issued until such time as all promissory notes have been retired; Three thousand shares are to remain the property of the vendors. The company is being formed to acquire and work several sections, totaling 160 acres, at Gipps Creek, near Benlomond, inclusive of 25 acres dam site and 16 sluice-heads of water, all reports speak very highly of the ground and estimated cost of putting the mine in working order is 1300 pounds."

THE EXAMINER WED 1ST AUG 1906 "The first half yearly meeting of the company shareholders was held yesterday Mr J C MacMichael presided. The director's report stated that during the period under review all necessary rights for the company had been secured, together with internal sections required and the opening of the mine had been completed by constructing a tailrace, head race and dam wall of which have been carried out satisfactorily, so that the mine can be worked to the best advantage, The cost of constructing works were, Tail race 422 pounds, head race, 270 pounds building large dam 535 pounds, The mine manager in his report gave all particulars in regard to these and other matters. The dam was constructed about 1 mile distant from the mine workings, on an extensive marsh on Gipps Creek. This dam was also fed by a head race 123 chains long, with a width of 3 feet from BenLomond Rivulet, The dam wall was earth construction. Base 52ft wide, top 18ft, Height perpendicular 30ft, length across 314ft."

At one time there were in excess of one thousand men working at Gipps Creek Mines. A hotel; was erected between the dams and Stacks Bluff at the base of Ben Lomond.

The Say Cagerattler

Before I commence this article, I'd like to thank a friend and workmate for providing me with some insightful documentation on one of my recent articles. This dealt with our troops in Afghanistan and how we need to reconsider our involvement given the utter confusion on who is friend or foe. I used an example of the Vietnam and Cambodia conflict re. Khmer Rouge as a similar circumstance. With the benefit of the reading material this situation was very complicated and messy in the extreme, especially in linking North Vietnam to the Khmer Rouge regime. It might have been better to just mention North Vietnamese collaborators and leave it at that. Thanks to my friend who has spent time in this part of the world and has a much better knowledge on this matter and I appreciate his time in recently explaining it better to me.

I wonder where we sit on this proposal of lower speed limits on rural roads? For me the jury is still out on this subject and I can see merit on a proposal to basically have a formula to determine the speed limits etc. My problem though is where this leaves us on the East Coast. We are supposed to be a major tourist destination and growing more so, but anyone who turns off the Midlands Highway heading east is confronted by a hotch-potch of different surfaces, varying widths, blind bends and other matters pertaining to safety. Get off the St Marys or Elephant Passes and some sections of road are diabolical. To be honest, changing the speed limit isn't going to make a lot of difference because most don't drive much above 90kmh now.

The real issue for me is seeing our road experts start recognising a genuine need to do some serious upgrades to a tourist trail that can enhance both safety and business potential in an area of this State that really needs it. Maybe reconsidering really heavy haulage on essentially very old roads might also assist. With the advent of a very major commitment to rail services in recent years, opportunities to use trains again to bring big freight into the region would be a good thing. The spin-off might be smaller short haul trucks with less impact on decrepit road infrastructure over time.

Imagine if you had a rail freight terminus somewhere in the Fingal Valley and you had contractors to pick up goods coming in for supermarkets, mines, fuel loads, all manner of businesses every day rather than these major semi-trailers hacking up already sub standard surfaces. Guess what? Employment opportunities.

On the speed limit issue, it will be very interesting to see how we rate as time goes on and to also see if revenue is ever extended to East Coast roads to meet the requirements for safer, faster travel in and out of the area..

Letter to the Editor
Vol. 45 No 12, October 4, 2012

In response to Cagerattler, September 6th, the complexities of war will always be an unfathomable nightmare for all of us who only know our safe lifestyle here in Australia. The political involvement and manipulation of facts fed to an ever enthusiastic media sees the general population form opinions based on spin and deception. Why do we fight other people's wars? Because generally the people waging war are a small minority of the population and unless stopped cause untold atrocities, generally on their own people. It saddens me to think of the bloodshed occurring around the world as I write.

The Vietnam War did not see our Australian troops fighting the Khmer Rouge as suggested. The Khmer Rouge were waging their own war in Cambodia and were opportunistic in taking advantage of the US war with Vietnam. The US had become involved in Cambodian politics also as they were unhappy that the North Vietnamese troops were using Cambodian soil to gain ground on South Vietnam. The US backed coup d'état in Cambodia in 1970 overthrew the government of Prince Sihanouk; they secretly carpet bombed eastern Cambodia and they supported Cambodian forces fighting against the Khmer Rouge and north Vietnamese resistance fighters throughout Cambodia. In April 1975, the Khmer Rouge overthrew the US backed Lon Nol government in Phnom Penh. The subsequent Pol Pot Regime was brutal: it is estimated that between 1 and 2 million died due to fighting, torture and starvation during their rule of 3 years and 8 months.

In Dec 1978 the Vietnamese invaded Cambodia. Despite the brutality of the Khmer Rouge and the horrors and atrocities they had committed, the threat of communism spreading throughout Asia rang alarm bells for the west (including Australia). The Chinese, having backed the Khmer Rouge and having fallen out with Vietnam, were not keen on the Vietnamese invasion either.

A resistance coalition brought together the Khmer Rouge (the largest of the three groups), the royalist party and a non communist group which was financially supported for a number of years by many western countries – Australia included.

In 1989 Vietnam declared they would withdraw from Cambodia, paving the way for supposed 'peace' and Cambodia's first democratic elections. However, the Khmer Rouge continued their warfare and launched a series of offensives which lead to ongoing displacement of thousands of people within the country.

After UN supervised elections in 1993 (boycotted by the Khmer Rouge) despite the royalist party (Funcinpec) gaining the majority of seats, the Vietnamese backed Cambodian People's Party failed to accept the result, leading to the stunning result of two Prime Ministers– Prince Ranarhiddh and Hun Sen. In 1997, a coup d'état by Hun Sen lead to more fighting, all this time, the Khmer Rouge continued to mount offensives and areas of Cambodia remained under their control. In 1998 an all out offensive began in the last remaining strongholds in the northern part of Cambodia (not long after Pol Pot's death in 1997). The last remaining leaders escaped to the forests but the group was divided. Some fled to Thailand, many ex Khmer Rouge leaders and soldiers defected to the government. Prime Minister Hun Sen still rules to this day in a 'democratic' society.

In no way is this a complete version of what happened in Cambodia, but the influence of Cambodia's neighbours as well as western nations has had a long lasting effect... Just to reiterate, Australian troops did not fight the Khmer Rouge – they fought in Vietnam long before Vietnam took over Cambodia.

Ross Quinn.

Luca Brasi

Saxon Hall, Tyler Richardson, Mitchell Dobson, Tom Busby and Patrick Marshall, who all grew up on the East Coast of Tasmania, in Scamander, Beaumaris and St Helens, are now making waves on the Punk Rock scene with their band, Luca Brasi.

Luca Brasi, a five piece Punk Rock Band, have been on the music scene for nearly three years. They have put themselves out there, playing in lounge rooms, kitchens and pubs, anywhere, to anyone who would listen.

During those years they have been able to secure National tours, a label signing with Poison City Records and had their debut album "Extended Family" pressed on vinyl. Recently they have released a new 7" single on vinyl, called "tassie seven demons".

This week, they have been informed that they are to be fostered as one of the finalists in a competition, which will secure the top 3 acts a spot at this year's FALLS FESTIVAL line-up in Marion Bay.

The competition is the Tasmania Foster Band Initiative, 2012.

This entails getting on line to the Falls Festival website, clicking onto Tasmania Foster Band Initiative 2012 and placing a vote for LUCA BRASI.

For all locals who want to see this happen, put your vote behind the boys and get to watch your local band on stage at Marion Bay.

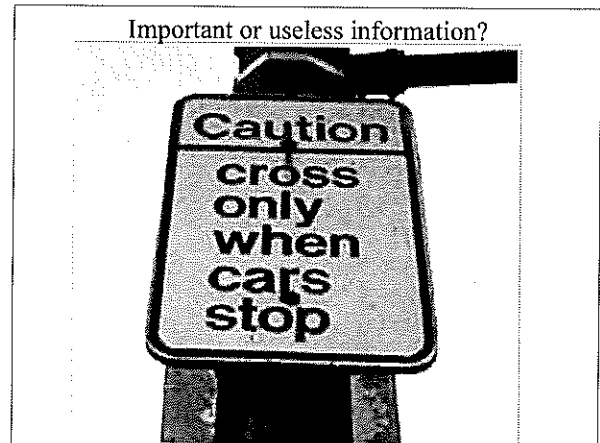

The Band members have assured me that they would really appreciate your vote.

Competition runs for the month of October.

St. Marys Tigers Football Club Inc.

President's Report

Well we managed to get through another year and while our results were mixed it looks like Masters footy is now well entrenched on the East Coast of Tasmania and I must admit with some pride the fact that it is well and truly centred in St Marys.

We operate on a shoe string budget and there are really only three of us that run the club (myself, Rick Lohrey and Michael Cooke) but we still manage to get a competitive team on the field when required and I think we put on a pretty decent show when we have the odd home game. We are also pretty good at roping in volunteers when needed and it is gratifying to know that when the crunch comes you can generally rely on people to lend a hand.

I also like to think that we manage this without constantly holding our hand out for money or beating a steady path to the businesses in town constantly asking for donations. In saying this, however, I gratefully acknowledge the support of local businesses on the odd occasion when we seek it. The very generous donation of trophies for our annual presentation is a case in point.

Whether for the better or worse the nature of the St Marys community is changing. The "old" days when half the town (or more) would turn out for a local game of footy are gone and now with most things organised in St Marys it is pretty hard to get a good crowd along. Still, we will plug away and fortunately we have established a good player base from far and wide so we remain confident that we will be able to get a team in the black and yellow on the field for a while yet. To get our best team on the field and give our great rivals Launceston a good hiding is our burning ambition.

There is talk next year of having all Northern Tasmanian AFL Masters games at Campbell Town to even out the travel required (trying to muster a team to play at Devonport is a real challenge considering the five hour round trip for an hour's game of footy) so that is something we will look at closely in consultation with our players.

Finally I would like to sincerely thank all involved with the Mighty Tigers this year, from our wonderful band of players, the hardy souls who turn up for training every Friday evening to all those who have helped at various stages of the year, from manning the scoreboard or running water out to the players, helping in the kiosk or cooking sausages on the barby. You know who you are and I salute you all for your generous assistance and participation.

Also many thanks for all those that have participated in our weekly footy tipping competition, this has been a vital source of income for us (in fact it has been our lifeline) and we hope to have a similar competition next year.

A match report from our game against Campbell Town and details of our annual presentation will appear elsewhere in this edition of the Valley Voice.

Club President.

St Marys Tigers vs Campbell Town Saturday 22 September 2012

Match Report

I must admit it was a nervous wait during the week as the rain persisted and it was with a feeling of dread that we went out to the footy ground on Saturday morning to mark out the boundary. Council staff had mown the grass during the week and it was a great relief to find the ground in almost perfect condition, no mud and no puddles.

The day was originally only planned as a presentation event; we had approached both Triabunna and Launceston for a "friendly" but both clubs had prior commitments. Fortunately Dave Nicholson, one of our regular players from Campbell Town was able to round up a team and it was with great anticipation that we looked forward to a return to the "glory days" when games between St Marys and Campbell Town were contested with great vigour and passion (and the odd bit of "biff" if the legends are to be believed).

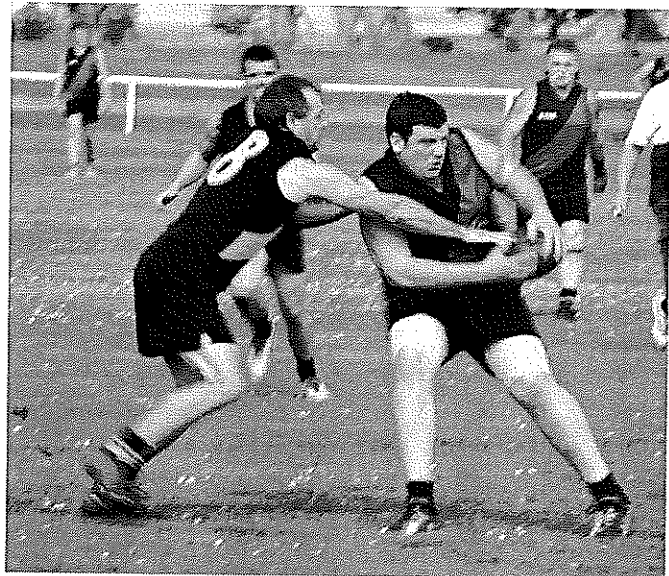

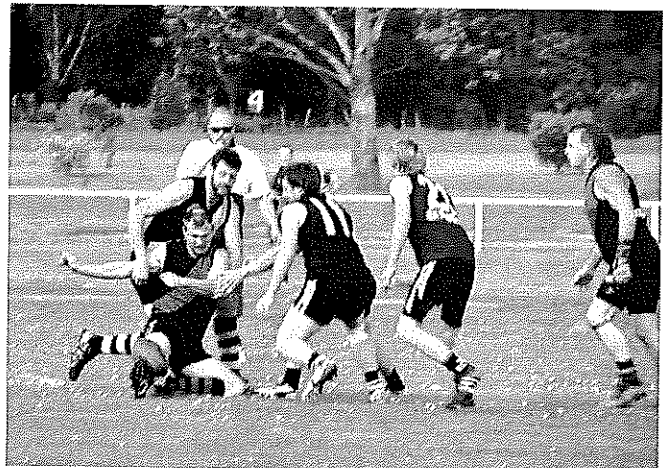

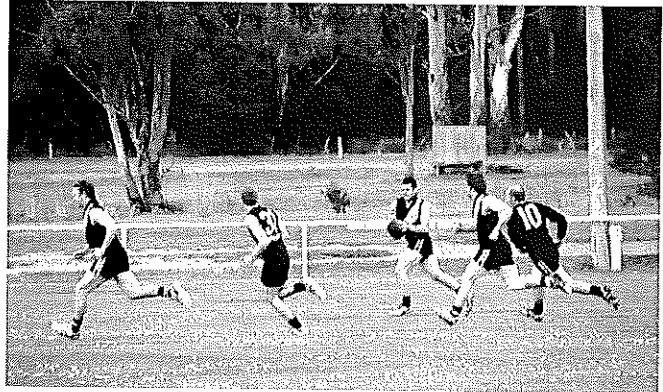

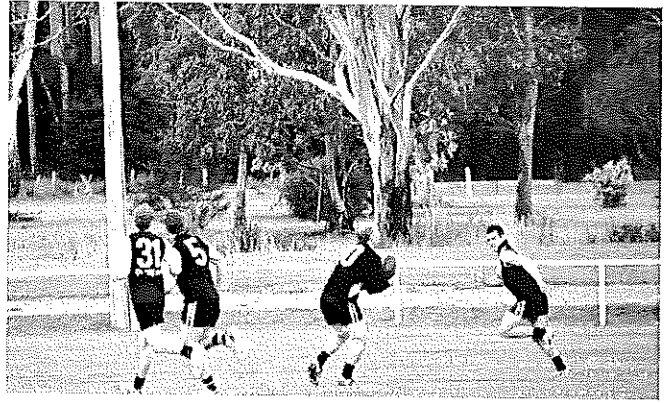

It was also a real pleasure to have Healthy House on board with their crew setting up their marquee to provide blood tests and blood pressure readings as well as providing general health advice. A couple of the tough "macho" footballers though, balked at the little pin prick in the finger-tip to extract some blood but we won't go into that! We hope that we can establish a strong relationship with Healthy House and have similar participation in the future.

We were able to muster up a pretty strong team of both veterans and current players and what a wonderful sight it was to see the likes of Kody Donald, Nick Child, Shaun Cannon and Brent Leedham in the St Marys jumper.

As the sun came out the game got underway and you knew straight away that it was going to be a cracker. St Marys jumped out of the gates and had a handy lead at quarter time. Rick Crossingham was doing a great job in the ruck, Craig "Buddah" Woods (who was also our "on ground" coach) was everywhere, his timing and positional play was a sight to behold and Brent Leedham and Brodie Frost were also playing well.

This really was a game of high standard and certainly deserving of a much better crowd but all the players dug in and put on a great show. It was fabulous to see Craig or Brent gather the ball and have that little bit of extra time (that all good players have) to get another player involved whether it be by a pinpoint handball or kick. Craig Baldwin was brilliant in defence, Kody Donald was picking up kicks all over the ground and Ray Squires was kicking goals from all over the place but certainly benefitting from some wonderful passes.

The Campbell Town boys battled hard but it was St Marys day and they ran out comfortable winners 23.10 148 to 11.6 72. 34 goals in four 20 minute quarters gives you a good indication of what an entertaining game it was. I should also make special mention of Aaron Webb who played a fantastic game helping out the Campbell Town team – he kicked one very special left foot goal the equal of the best I have ever seen.

HAPPY 11TH BIRTHDAY JAM

Last week we celebrated 11 years of JAM (Jesus And Me) and the Birthday was full of fun, food and family!

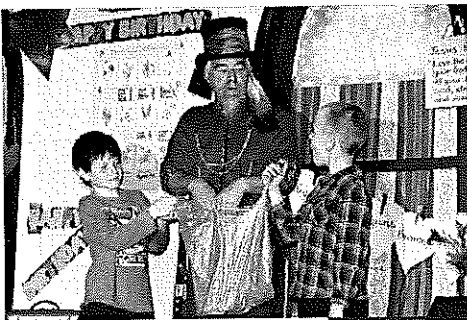

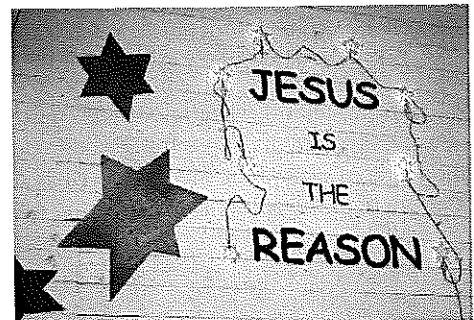

We had a fantastic guest in Bob the Juggler and Magician, and he dazzled us all with his magic tricks and sleight of hand.

Sausages sizzled and served in bread were a treat, as was the huge cream cake which was cut by Delta, a "JJ" (Jesus Junior) and Alisha, a "GG" (God's Group). By the way, the third group at JAM is called the "KK"s (King's Kingdom)

There were balls galore (some went over the fence!) lots of painted faces, joyous jumping on the castle, curly rings to crawl through and of course we all joined in to sing "Happy Birthday" to JAM.

The weather was great - we finished all our outside games and fun and just after we moved inside for the magic show, the clouds opened... but we were safe and warm and dry inside!

Any enquiries for new enrolments to JAM, please contact Mel on 0409 838 816.

St Marys and Bicheno farewell educator Rebecca Barnes

The St Marys Child Care Centre and Bicheno Little Penguins Child Care Centre are sorry to have to say good bye to one of their long term child care staff, Rebecca (Bec) Barnes.

Bec has been with the centres for 5 years, providing great care and support for the families and staff in both communities. Her commitment to child care has seen her successfully complete her Certificate III in Children's Services and she is now well on the way to receiving her Diploma qualification.

We all congratulate Bec who recently was the successful applicant for Director's position at the new Campbell Town Early Learning Centre, due to open its doors around the 15th October.

WE are thrilled that Bec will still remain as part of the bigger NCN family and will be able to maintain a great relationship with our centres. We all wish Bec well in her new venture and thank her for her ongoing commitment to the children of both St Marys and Bicheno. Please come and say hi to her before her last day on 4th October.

Rebecca Barnes.

"Do You Know Tasmania?"

Don't miss it!

When a rather shy, retiring man decided to take his wife on a safari holiday to Africa, his domineering mother-in-law insisted on going too. While making camp the first night the fearsome old lady was found to be missing. After searching for some time, the couple discovered her in a small clearing, scowling at a ferocious lion, which was crouched in the dust not far away. The younger woman was immediately filled with alarm and hissed at the husband, "Don't just stand there... do something!" "Why should I do anything?" he said meekly, "the lion got himself into this mess, he can get himself out of it!"

"This trans-generational group of wandering minstrels certainly gave new life and energy to some age-old pieces of music in their robust performance... The skill and finesse of the performances was awe inspiring and their presence was equally commanding." Australian Stage Online

ACO₂ connects the next generation of talented young Australian musicians with the stars of the Australian Chamber Orchestra, creating a combined ensemble with a fresh, energetic performance style.

In this concert, ACO₂ perform some of the best music for string orchestra from the Baroque, Romantic and Contemporary eras. Bach's sprightly Brandenburg Concerto No.3 is one of the most popular pieces in classical music. Russian composer Igor Stravinsky's elegant concerto has been choreographed several times as a ballet. Dvořák's Serenade, full of flowing melodies and wistful waltzes, is a delight. Meale's Cantilena Pacifica features a long, lyrical line for solo violin. Rising young British composer Tarik O'Regan has already received two Grammy nominations.

Don't miss this chance to hear musicians from Australia's most dynamic and critically acclaimed orchestra performing with the stars of the future.

Bob Browns comments are to be condemned!

Federal Liberal candidate for Lyons, Eric Hutchinson, has expressed outrage at Bob Brown's comments that the demise of Gunns is a victory for commonsense and the people.

"It is appalling for Bob Brown to describe this situation – with the potential loss of hundreds of jobs, and financial misery for thousands of Tasmanians - as a victory," Mr Hutchinson said.

"In the electorate of Lyons, this will hit extremely hard, not only for Gunns workers and their families, contractors and many small businesses, but also for the many farmers who rely on Gunns' lease payments to pay their bills. It could break some of these farmers if they lose that income. "How is this scenario a victory for anything?"

Mr Hutchinson said the so-called forestry peace deal and the uncertainty in the forestry industry since Labor minority governments had formed in Tasmania and nationally had contributed significantly to Gunns' demise.

He again called on Labor MHR for Lyons, Dick Adams, to finally stand up for workers and farmers.

"It has been one casualty after another since Labor and the Greens started meddling in the forestry industry. This has to stop. The forestry industry has a bright future with the right policies in place, and Mr Adams must start fighting for it. Green groups will stop at nothing to shut this state down and their disgraceful reaction to the Gunns collapse proves it.

"What's more, their crowing over the carcass of this once great company will only entrench the message to would-be investors that Tasmania is closed for business."

Eric Hutchinson.

One woman's quest for justice in song, dance and story

DIRECTORS: Naomi Edwards & Dennis

WRITER : Claire Dawson & Naomi

TATTS DAWSON: GANGSTER & MOLL – is one woman's quest for justice in song, dance and story.

Can one woman find justice in a world pitted against her? Set in New York in the 1930s, this is the story of a working class woman who is unjustly sent to jail after an act of self-defence. Issues of power, gender and human longing are mixed with well known popular musical hits, jazz favourites and contemporary numbers, set against a gorgeous prohibition background.

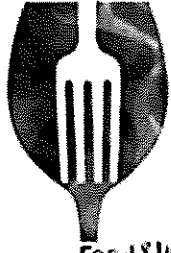

The show moves backwards and forwards in time, as SiSi, playing the heroine Tatts Dawson, welcomes the audience to her New York Speakeasy. The action then moves back in time, to her journey from London to New York, and from hope to devastation. The second parts describes Tatts' journey from the New York penitentiary to her subsequent role as moll and gangster. The story is loosely based on some of New Yorks' most notorious female gangsters but the themes are timeless and the music classic.

Duration: 70 minute show.

Sports & Social Club News:

Golf: A couple of good weeks on the course, starting with hosting around 35 veteran golfers a fortnight ago. It was nice to see a few on the course as it is at its absolute best at present.

Last weekend saw a junior golf clinic hosted by Casino professional Bryce Gorum. He could only be commended for his efforts as he took several of our junior golfers through their paces for around two hours and then took time to do a little coaching of a regular senior member of the club. Thanks also to Roy Ridgers for his efforts in teeing up the day. Unfortunately, as the groups were half way through their round later in the morning, the rain came, putting a premature end to some rounds. Still, everyone enjoyed the day and thanks to Russell & Bobby Harwood for their support with trophies, no one went home empty handed.

Last weekend saw around 20 patrons take part in the Grand Final breakfast and golf. Winners were Chris, Liam Davern and Brent, Jordan (Tiger) Leedham. Kirsten Viney won the popular tipping competition and Chris Davern finished last in the darts. Thanks to chefs Damon, Jack and Trevor for feeding the hoards and special thanks to Jackie for her afternoon snacks that went down a treat. Now there is a bit of support for this event there are a few suggestions for improving the day next year.

This Sunday at 10:00am will see a stableford event.

Bowls: We finally had a chance to have a roll last weekend in the inaugural Nan Stewart Memorial at Scamander. Whilst everyone was a little rusty, it was great to see that we filled 4 full rinks. Although we went down narrowly, everyone enjoyed the day and we get to have our chance prior to the season commencing next year. This week, division 2 commences the season at St. Helens. The team will be named Thursday night after training. Division 1 have the bye.

Fundraising: As you can see by the ads in this issue, there is a bit going on at present. This Saturday at 6:30pm, Macca and the crew host a trivia night. Saturday 20th Diesel hosts the Aussie Bush Tucker Night. Saturday the 3rd November we host around 80 campers to a meal. Sunday the 4th is the well supported Reverse Course and due to the Lymphoedema Centre being unable to host the Melbourne Cup Luncheon, we are going to take bookings and in conjunction with the Lions Club, have a go at the event, see advertising this issue.

BOWLS MEETING THIS FRIDAY 5th OCTOBER AT 7:00pm.
GENERAL COMMITTEE MEETING TUESDAY 9th OCTOBER AT 7:00pm.
